BRITONS EASE UP PREPARING FOR DEFENCE

Chamberlain's R. e. m. k. Lifts Strain From People

By EDWIN JOHNSON

London, Sept. 28.—The relieving news of today's four-hour postponement of the conference at Munich and the fact that the British government has decided to accept the German ultimatum, has been received with a sigh of relief in the heart of the Empire with almost as much jubilation as would have been caused by an armistice after an actual outbreak of hostilities.

The stock exchange was closed today, the City being in a state of confusion, but after a hour trading the optimism of financial circles was reflected in upward movement.

EXPECT SETTLEMENT

It is generally expected here that the conference between Germany and Italy might give a final settlement to the "big four" and settlement of other problems between Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Before Mr. Chamberlain made his announcement, the United Kingdom had been gripped with an uneasiness reminiscent of the period days of 1914.

Many regarded it as tantamount to an armistice, for there was a belief that mobilization of Germany's forces inevitably would mean war.

WORRY EASED

There were some who believed Prime Minister Chamberlain's words would go to the heart of the matter, but many felt that the danger was far from over.

But soon after making this statement to a House of Commons packed with cheering and shouting, Mr. Chamberlain said that he was "happy to hear that the danger was far from over."

CROWDS VOLUNTEER

In the early morning crowds began congregating in the neighborhood of the Houses of Parliament. Other men and women of all ages trooped into Whitehall, regular stations nearby. Retired naval officers, former merchant mariners, and other men and women who were in the navy in the last war flocked to the Admiralty to offer their services.

CHILDREN FREAKED

Meanwhile, measures were being taken for the evacuation of women and children from London and other areas. Many children reported to school carrying gas masks and blankets. Thousands had been ordered to leave their homes and travel to the country.

Czechs Would Refuse Issue To Roosevelt

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Czechoslovakian government has refused to accept the German ultimatum, and has decided to continue the fight.

PRECAUTION POSTERS

Throughout the country a new type of air raid precaution poster has been put up, warning people to take shelter in case of an air raid.

WOMAN HAS ELECTRICITY

An odd glimpse of humor emerged from the serious business of the conference, when a woman was asked by an air raid precaution officer if she had a gas mask.

Sudeten Nazi Charged in Hatching New Plot

Benes Strengthens Power Of Syrovky: Czechs Pleased With Chamberlain's Work

PRAGUE, Sept. 29.—President Benes strengthened the hand of Premier General Jan Syrovky Wednesday as the armistice republic sought the outcome of today's motions four-power conference on the Sudeten German issue at Munich.

Benes appointed the Premier to head of the Supreme Economic Office. It was announced following a conference among Benes, Syrovky, former premier Milan Hlinka, and other members of the Syrovky cabinet and leaders of the government coalition parties.

At the same time the official Czech news agency for a communist, (the Sudeten German) had hatched a new scheme to stir up trouble.

"The Sudeten German party seeks to publish abroad three newspapers in the Czech language," the Czechs announced. "These newspapers, which will be named 'Narodni Politika', 'Ceske Slovo' and 'Hlas Prava', (these are respectively the names of Conservative, Czechoslovak Socialist party and Communist organs published here).

"These would be printed in a fashion exactly similar to that of the Czechoslovak newspapers of the same name," the Czechs added. "Naturally, the new scheme carried out by these newspapers would be of a type to disrupt the unity of the Czech nation."

Fairview Hospital

The fully modern, air-conditioned hospital to be opened about the middle of October will give Fairview district residents hospital facilities of the equal of those to be obtained anywhere else in Alberta. It has accommodations for 22 beds, and has modern furnishings and equipment.

Fairview Hospital Will Be Opened By Middle Of October

FAIRVIEW, Sept. 29.—When Dr. M. R. Bos, deputy minister of health, as representative of the Alberta government, officiates at the opening of the new Fairview hospital here about the middle of October, he will bring to full fruition the result of a community effort on the part of residents of this district which stands out even in the north country, where everyone helps his neighbor.

Fully modern, air conditioned, and equipped with the latest in hospital furnishings and equipment, the new building will give Fairview district residents hospital facilities of the equal of those to be obtained anywhere else in Alberta. The new structure has accommodations for 22 beds, and will replace the hospital formerly conducted by the Women's Institute, which, although at first adequate to meet its needs, has of late years been hampered by insufficient room and inadequate funds to meet the growing needs of a growing district.

Agitation for new hospital accommodations has been in the air since a special act of the provincial legislature was passed giving the Municipal district and the Village of Fairview power to incorporate a hospital for long term purposes. With the necessary authority, those behind the movement said $200,000 of the bonds to residents of the district.

BODY OF NURSE TAKEN FROM LAKE

LACOMBIE, Sept. 29.—Body of Miss Elsie Boyd, Lacombe nurse, was taken from the waters of Lake Lacombe at 10:45 a.m. Wednesday after a search by RCMP and volunteer divers. Miss Boyd, 34, was found Tuesday night while swimming with three companions. Dr. E. M. Macdonald, coroner, decided that a post-mortem would be held. Funeral services will probably be held in Lacombe. Miss Boyd's former home was at the Holy Cross hospital, Calgary.

POLICE KNEW WHAT DO WITH PLUMP BIRD

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—When a partridge fluttered by the big city streets, the police knew what to do. Albert Hildebrandt, a partridge hunter, was taken to the police station, where he was told that he had done the right thing. He was released on a $100 bond.

What To Do

By Philip Belmont

Quite frequently my husband and I have been asked what to do about the problem of the partridge. The answer is simple: do nothing. The partridge is a wild bird, and it is not our business to interfere with its freedom.

BOARD TO OPERATE

Administration of the new hospital will be in the hands of the Fairview Hospital Board under the chairmanship of J. F. Smith, M.P.A. The board will be composed of representatives of the Municipal district and the Village of Fairview.

By ALICIA HART
Nothing is more incongruous than slipshod speech and annoying enunciation coming from the mouth of a woman who, obviously, has spent a great deal of time on grooming routines and girds herself on always looking her best. The girl who is determined to be attractive each and every hour of the day thinks of beauty in a broader sense than just the importance of making the latest fashions, the right clothes. She knows that one must be immaculate from head to foot, inside made up, have perfect posture and keep her hands soft, smooth and well manicured. But she knows also that she'll be judged by her voice as well as her appearance. So, along with her other self-improvement routines, she finds time to do something about her speech.

For instance, she may rearrange her vowels simply because it sits a bit here and there along the line and using the resulting savings for a few lessons with a voice teacher. More than likely, however, she will simply go through a few rules for herself, then stick to them. She will abandon the slang expression she overuses simply because it sits a bit here and there along the line and using the resulting savings for a few lessons with a voice teacher. More than likely, however, she will simply go through a few rules for herself, then stick to them. She will abandon the slang expression she overuses simply because it sits a bit here and there along the line and using the resulting savings for a few lessons with a voice teacher. More than likely, however, she will simply go through a few rules for herself, then stick to them.

She'll practice using good words in place of slang expressions and she'll try to speak clearly and distinctly all of the time. Furthermore, she'll keep a dictionary handy and make a game of finding out how to pronounce words she suspects she may mispronounce. Finally, she'll read aloud to herself often. Reading aloud really is a sure-fire way to improve your speech.

that they have lost the use of them by crawling on their bellies so long. Maybe automobiles will eventually take the place of our legs. Who knows? The tarsal lamp is a plant, not an animal. This Chinese friend has a "dunce" resembling that of sheep.

The first year of marriage is peculiarly fraught with peril. Why it should be called the honeymoon and be popularly supposed to be filled with sweet love and romance, nobody knows. In reality, it is a time of disillusion, strife and tears when a young couple are finding out that marriage is a chore instead of a picnic, that they have married human beings instead of angels, when the boy husband wonders a thousand times why he did it, and the girl wife is on the verge of putting on her belt ten thousand times and going back to Mother.

Nothing can save a young couple from disaster if they go through this terrible ordeal of having to adjust themselves to each other. It suffers so much so great that it is no wonder that so many lack the courage to endure them and return to their hands and quit. Before marriage they may have thought themselves too good to be married, but after marriage they find out that no man and woman ever think alike, or have the same tastes and habits and points of view.

Every man believes in the magic of the wedding ring, the great secret of his power, the finger it turns her from whatever she was before into a meek, gentle, submissive wife. He craves a crackle and a thrill. Every girl is sure she is marrying a great hero who will spend his life telling her his beautiful and romantic tales and, and expect nothing of her except for her to meet him in a mad sweet snail and be dressed in glamorous clothes.

When the bridegroom discovers that after marriage she is just as selfish and snore and determined to have her own way as she was before marriage, and the bride finds that, too, her new husband is no angel and takes her for granted and knows her looking instead of praising her, it is no wonder that they think for the time being, that they have ceased to love each other and that marriage isn't worth the price.

Time is the great teacher, the great solvent of our problems. If a couple survives the first few years of marriage they recover from their initial disappointments; they learn how to adapt themselves to each other; they acquire tact and those in love have no other cause and cease to look longingly toward the honeymoon and romantic tales and, and expect nothing of her except for her to meet him in a mad sweet snail and be dressed in glamorous clothes.

The second danger period of marriage is when a couple realize that the first few years of marriage they recover from their initial disappointments; they learn how to adapt themselves to each other; they acquire tact and those in love have no other cause and cease to look longingly toward the honeymoon and romantic tales and, and expect nothing of her except for her to meet him in a mad sweet snail and be dressed in glamorous clothes.

Then comes a sort of a fall in life. The man has made his fortune. The woman has finished her job with the children. They have leisure in which to think about themselves and each other and to perceive that May no longer looks like a Lady Love and John is no woman's ideal of a Fairy Prince.

It is the roaring twenties that are really the most perilous part of the whole matrimonial voyage, but if a couple can steer safely through them, they need fear no further dangers. — DOROTHY DIX

DESIGN No. 44—DUTCH GIRL GIFT APRON
Dear Readers: A great many letters are coming in daily asking us for "novelty aprons suitable for Christmas gifts." We think the little Dutch Princess inspired our designer to produce this one for you. We made the model of pale blue and white muslin, worked the flowers on the dress in red and did the tulips in mauve and blue. It works up quickly and is the prettiest apron imaginable.

The pattern includes transfers and all cutting diagrams, stitch and color charts and keys, material requirements and all instructions for sewing. Send 15 cents in coin for this pattern to The Edmonton Bulletin, Newsworld Dept., Edmonton, Alberta.

DOROTHY DIX Says:

The two danger periods of marriage are when a husband and wife are young and when they are middle-aged. Then it is that a couple should watch their steps and pray for patience and sanity and for some miracle to be wrought that will carry them safely through the storm centers of matrimony.

Nothing can save a young couple from disaster if they go through this terrible ordeal of having to adjust themselves to each other. It suffers so much so great that it is no wonder that so many lack the courage to endure them and return to their hands and quit. Before marriage they may have thought themselves too good to be married, but after marriage they find out that no man and woman ever think alike, or have the same tastes and habits and points of view.

Every man believes in the magic of the wedding ring, the great secret of his power, the finger it turns her from whatever she was before into a meek, gentle, submissive wife. He craves a crackle and a thrill. Every girl is sure she is marrying a great hero who will spend his life telling her his beautiful and romantic tales and, and expect nothing of her except for her to meet him in a mad sweet snail and be dressed in glamorous clothes.

When the bridegroom discovers that after marriage she is just as selfish and snore and determined to have her own way as she was before marriage, and the bride finds that, too, her new husband is no angel and takes her for granted and knows her looking instead of praising her, it is no wonder that they think for the time being, that they have ceased to love each other and that marriage isn't worth the price.

Time is the great teacher, the great solvent of our problems. If a couple survives the first few years of marriage they recover from their initial disappointments; they learn how to adapt themselves to each other; they acquire tact and those in love have no other cause and cease to look longingly toward the honeymoon and romantic tales and, and expect nothing of her except for her to meet him in a mad sweet snail and be dressed in glamorous clothes.

The second danger period of marriage is when a couple realize that the first few years of marriage they recover from their initial disappointments; they learn how to adapt themselves to each other; they acquire tact and those in love have no other cause and cease to look longingly toward the honeymoon and romantic tales and, and expect nothing of her except for her to meet him in a mad sweet snail and be dressed in glamorous clothes.

Then comes a sort of a fall in life. The man has made his fortune. The woman has finished her job with the children. They have leisure in which to think about themselves and each other and to perceive that May no longer looks like a Lady Love and John is no woman's ideal of a Fairy Prince.

It is the roaring twenties that are really the most perilous part of the whole matrimonial voyage, but if a couple can steer safely through them, they need fear no further dangers. — DOROTHY DIX

Fish Baked In Milk Is Simple Yet Tasty

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Dress your fish simply. It will taste marvellous. Fresh fish needs no sauces, despite all the complicated talk you may have heard. Oysters, too, require no special treatment. They are their own reward in most cases.

Buy only one per cent fresh and quick frozen fish. It should be firm to the touch, have firm gills and moist eyes and have shiny scales.

FISH BAKED IN MILK
Two pounds fish fillets, 1 egg, 1-2 cup dry bread crumbs, 2 cups whole milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon minced garlic, 1 teaspoon freshly chopped parsley. Clean fillets and wipe dry. Beat egg lightly and brush over one side of fillets. Then sprinkle lightly with salt, bread crumbs and lemon juice. Lay in well-greased baking dish. Pour in milk. Add salt and taste and pepper if wanted. Then bread-crumb the fish with butter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400-450° F.) for about 25 minutes. Sprinkle with parsley and serve very hot.

PIGS IN BLANKET
One pint large oysters, 1 pound thinly sliced bacon, salt and pepper to taste, lemon sections.

Clean oysters, carefully removing all bits of shell. Drain oysters, and season delicately with salt and pepper. Wrap a strip of bacon around each oyster and secure with a toothpick. Use a shallow, lightly greased baking dish. Arrange oysters in one layer. Bake in moderate oven (350° degrees F.) for about 25 minutes. Sprinkle with parsley and serve very hot.

BREAKFAST Grate the dry cereal. Cook according to package directions. Pigs in blanket, lemon sections, cold milk, orange juice to taste.

Torpedo Bombing Squadron Due For Atlantic Coast

TRISTON, Ont., Sept. 28.—A new reported Wednesday that officers and men of the No. 6 torpedo bombing squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force station here expect to be transferred to Halifax for duty shortly. Confirmation of such a transfer was not available.

The squadron is composed of 30 officers and men with an airplane of heavy type. The machines are equipped with two machine guns with forward racks for releasing bombs.

"What a wonderful rumble run!" You have the deadly thrill of over-riding a machine, using them as often they don't mean anything. Tell a partner his game is fascinating, look or brilliant. The sandwiches may be delicious, savory or appetizing—the rumble run, lively, fast-paced or anything.

Let spirit, first word re- your own words more. Our 32-page booklet offers first words re- 1728 synonyms. Make them part of heavy type. The machines are equipped with two machine guns with forward racks for releasing bombs.

Pioneer Days Will Be Recalled As Air Route Opens

CEREMONY IS ARRANGED FOR MAIL SERVICE

Stage Coach Will Feature
Celebration For TCA
Flight Saturday

The oldest western mail stage will work with the new air wing of the TCA to inaugurate the new air mail flight of the newly inaugurated Trans-Canada Airlines service Saturday night.

The inaugural flight takes off from the Edmonton airport at 8:45 p.m. when TCA's Lockheed Constellation will leave for Winnipeg with flights west, for Winnipeg and Vancouver.

ORIGINAL COACH
A picturesque ceremony has been planned by the Chamber of Commerce. The original stage coach which carried the mail from Calgary to Macleod when the west was first opened up will carry the mail from the Edmonton post office to the airport.

Drawn by four blindfold horses and driven by Frank Byers, well known Edmonton horseman, the stage will leave the post office at 8:45 p.m. to arrive at the airport just in time for the plane's departure.

Also connecting with the inaugural flight will be the new flight from Port Radium on the Athabasca circle, made by Mackenzie Air Service, northern airmail contractors. Pilot Stan McMillan, assistant to the president of N.A.S., will leave Port Radium Saturday morning in the speedy Beechcraft C-47B, arriving at Cooking Lake airplane base in time to connect with the TCA flight.

COMMITTEE
Members of the Chamber of Commerce committee arranging for the ceremony and for publicity for the airmail service are John Chisholm, chairman; C. Becker, W. L. Brind, W. R. May, A. E. J. O. D. D. H. W. J. Macdonald and J. H. Macdonald.

Airmail deposited at the post office up to 8 p.m. daily will be carried on the TCA flight and a special airmail slot has been provided in the post boxes prior to the last collection hour before 8 p.m. will be sent on the night plane.

To draw attention to the service, the Chamber of Commerce is issuing 3,000 window stickers and booster letters to all business firms.

OXYGEN TUBE IS DANGEROUS OWNER WARNS

If the party or parties who found an oxygen tank on the gravelly highway two miles east of Elk Island Park and between that point and St. John's College between 12 noon and 1:30 on Wednesday, are of an unscrupulous nature, they are urged to be careful.

Bob Cramer, proprietor of the Saskatoon Welding Company in Edmonton, owner of the tank, fears that unskillful handling of the tank could result in an accident. "The tank dropped from the back of a truck," he said, "and I am sure that the driver went back almost immediately it had been picked up. Anyone finding it is urged to be careful and to get in touch with our shop immediately."

George Lee, a cook in Lewiston, Idaho, reports that the picturesque hangar of the restaurant has suffered a decline. "No longer has orders for 'no in the water' meaning two boiled eggs, or 'stop her twice and send her out' meaning blue-ribbon steak. Seeking opinions in Edmonton on the subject," the Bulletin Inquiring Reporter writes.

CHARLEY PAYNE, janitor, who the water calls him and eggs "no two clocks and a grunt," while you were dining, when you get it. Short expressions for ingratitude and complaint have been heard, though when business is thriving.

JOHNIE CHAD, hockey player, "Is too bad the old restaurant, it's doing fine, because it's as good as well as being busy." He says he'll be back soon, and he'll be back soon, and he'll be back soon.

BILLY FARRELL, waitress, "Kitchener is doing fine in Edmonton, but it's not as good as it was in the States. Your guy's a little bit of a fool, but he's a good one. We call the food by its right name, although some writers do 'coffee-and-a-bun or cupcake' are sometimes shortened to 'just for me'."

ROLIE EVANS, board manager, "I found some good expressions in restaurants here in town, and they are OK by me. They are as a source for food. When you say that 'chopped fine with a breath' is not a better phrase than the common 'hamburger and onion'." In all for it, it adds zest to the business of eating.

GORDON SCHRAMSTAD, grain elevator, "I am not encouraged in my opinion. I find it just food which is not a source of food, but with a touch of being bothered through a kitchen window it becomes entertainment as well as sustenance. Come on, let's go and have 'just for me' and a piece of pie."

War Concern Written On Their Faces

The grave countenances of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull, pictured as they met in Washington on the President's return from Rochester, Minn., indicate the seriousness with

Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly

Says Phyllis

Some Facts

Calgary Set

PHYLIS GRIFFITHS, writing in her column, "The Girl and the Game," in the Toronto Telegram brings up a point about the Grads that seems to be either widely misunderstood or wisely underappreciated. Phyllis says Percy Pearce states that the Grads may eventually have to dash through lack of attendance and points out that the "low" sale bringing this statement was a crowd of only 500. She points out, that girls' basketball teams in the east would collapse from the joyful shock if they ever had 100 paying fans on hand, let alone 500. Phyllis closes by suggesting that if the Grads really wanted to, they could carry on by recommending and "giving up the pleasure of travelling in the style to which they have become accustomed."

Now the point is simply this, Phyllis. The Grads are not travelling. It is the challenge clubs which are travelling. Furthermore the rules of Underwood trophy competition definitely state that the home club must supply the travelling club with first-class railway transportation and berth, plus hotel accommodation and meals from one day before the games until one day after it closes. And Phyllis, when you think of teams from far away in the United States such a service can easily run into a matter of $2,000 or more, for the actual cost of staging the games here is considerable.

Furthermore, there is no chance of commuting. The Wichita team is coming by motor, but the Grads must hand over to them a sum equal to five times railway fare and then return to the city of Edmonton and return. These are the hard and fast rules, under which this challenge competition is run and there is no getting away from them.

The next point is probably the question of why the Grads attempt such expensive stunts. The answer to that is that it is the only kind of game that the fact can be witnessed in. It is far easier to finance a series with such powerful U. S. teams than a Dominion championship with a club from eastern Canada. Furthermore such tournaments complete a valuable element of the Grads are to be maintained at world championship caliber.

Now, again, we come to the question of why the Grads attempt such expensive stunts. The answer to that is that it is the only kind of game that the fact can be witnessed in. It is far easier to finance a series with such powerful U. S. teams than a Dominion championship with a club from eastern Canada. Furthermore such tournaments complete a valuable element of the Grads are to be maintained at world championship caliber.

It is obvious that the only way to maintain the Grads machine at world championship caliber is to have the Grads attempt such expensive stunts. The answer to that is that it is the only kind of game that the fact can be witnessed in. It is far easier to finance a series with such powerful U. S. teams than a Dominion championship with a club from eastern Canada. Furthermore such tournaments complete a valuable element of the Grads are to be maintained at world championship caliber.

Manager Hartnett Clouts Payoff Homer

Hysterical Chicago Fans Swarm Around Cubs' Manager-Catcher After "Big" Homer; Pirates Get Jittery

By EARL HILLGREN

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—In the thickening gloom, with the score tied and two out in the ninth inning Wednesday, Gabby Hartnett blasted out a home run to give his Chicago Cubs a dramatic 6-5 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates and a half-game leadership in the furious National League pennant battle.

This is the story of one of the most sensational games ever played at Wrigley Field—a game which saw the fighting Cubs charge from behind to oust the Pirates from the No. 1 position they had held since July 12.

Manager-Catcher Hartnett's clutch smash, coming off Mac Brown, Pittsburgh's celebrated relief hurler, possibly saved the Cub pennant chances. Had he failed, the game would have been called because of darkness, necessitating a double bill today which would have almost assuredly handicapped the over-taxed Cub pitching staff.

GREATEST The Cub manager whose team was nine games out of first place a little more than a month ago and to fight his way through a swirling, hysterical mob to reach all the bases and had trouble reaching the dugout. He called the victory and said: "I feel like a man who has never happened to me in my life."

BRYANT CHASED A hit and two errors helped the Cubs to a win in the second and with Clay Hilder pitching masterfully, played in front until the sixth. Then the Pirates, combining Rizzo's blast homer with the season's first single which sent Hilder to the showers, bled Bryant with a three-run blast. Jack Russell replaced Bryant.

The Pirates went back to work in the eighth. Arky Vaughan walked and Gus Schatz struck out. Larry French replaced Page Hesse. Manush batted for Peg Young and singled, scoring Vaughan. Big Bill Lee, who finished Tuesday's game, went in for French and was greeted by Leo Handley's single which scored Subb.

Collins opened the Cub eighth with a single which sent Hilder to the showers. Bill Swift taking his place, Jurgens walked and Tony Lazzeri, former Yankee star, blasted a pinch double to right, scoring Collins and putting Jurgens in third. Hack was passed and Hesseman singled, scoring Jurgens with the tying run.

Clayton Kist picked for the Pirates to one hit, a single by Paul Waner, Caveratta and Reynolds were easy outs before Hartnett won the battle and put his team on top for the first time since June 8. It was the Cubs' ninth straight victory and their 19th in their last 23 games.

Today, in the concluding game of a three-game series, Leo will be Hartnett's pitching hope, with the Hilder Pirates banking on Russ Bauer.
